ABOUT RICK FOWLKES

Rick Fowlkes is a professional structural engineer. He has over 38 years experience with commercial, residential, and industrial engineering designs, including projects for the electric power industry. A former vice president with two prominent engineering firms in Phoenix, Rick has owned and operated his own consulting engineering business in Mesa since 1983.

Rick will bring a wealth of practical experience to the Corporation Commission. He has helped to design electrical power plants, substations, and transmission line structures. With his experience in electric utilities, Rick will be able to offer a professional perspective on this critical part of the Commission’s work.

“We have a unique opportunity in 2008 to elect qualified professionals to our Corporation Commission. Rather than settle for career politicians or people pursuing narrow political agendas, we can elect people who understand the industries that the Commission regulates.

As your Corporation Commissioners we will bring our lifetimes of experience to bear on important issues, including:

- ~ Improved safety and security at the Palo Verde Nuclear Power Plant
- ~ Reform at APS to end the wasteful practice of a monopoly using your money for advertising at ballparks and corporate self-promotion
- ~ Supporting the development of practical and efficient alternative energy sources
- ~ Protecting ratepayers by promoting competition and repealing the 15% renewable energy mandate that will cost ratepayers hundreds of millions of dollars”
